Game Changing Solution

In 2003 P&G informed IPC about a new expansion project that was underway at their Dry Detergent Manufacturing facility located in Pineville, LA. Several requirements they listed were; all major suppliers had to have manufacturing facilities in a 30 mile shipping radius of Pineville, they wanted diversity inclusion, and suppliers needed capacity and capabilities to handle their new liquid detergent volatile volume swings. We accepted the challenge and went to work. We proposed a value proposition that met all their conditions and was awarded a 5 year contract to supply 100% of all their packaging needs. This was accomplished by creating a partnership with a major integrated and in 2004 building a state of the art facility in Alexandria, LA.
